Overview

Muktinath yatra is a holy and spiritual tour that takes you to Muktinath temple in Mustang and Manang region. This temple is at the foothills of the Himalayas. It is sacred for Hindus and Buddhist devotees. The temple is the abode of Lord Vishnu incarnated as Muktinath. The temple means "place of liberation or moksha".

There are many fascinating stops to the remote undisturbed valley such as gorge of Kaligandaki, Monastery, 108 water spouts also known as Muktidhara, the eternal flame of Jwala Mai temple in the vicinity of the routes to Muktinath. You also get to sight-seen a vivacious lakeside Country called Pokhara on the way back from temple visit.

In Pokhara you will be given a tour to Davis fall, Bindhyabasini temple, Seti river gorge, Gupteshwor cave, Barahi temple, Phewa lake and taken to a hill station called Sarangkot to observe the snow clad peaks of Mt. Fishtail, Mt. Dhaulagiri, Nilgiri, Annapurna and driven back to Kathmandu and head back home. You will also see popular

UNESCO World heritage sites like Swayambhunath, Boudhanath, Pashupatinath,which hold religious and cultural significance about Nepal. Best time for Muktinath yatra in Nepal are February, March, April, May, June, September, October, November and December.
