Overview

Kailash Mansarovar yatra is a spiritual tour to the abode of Lord Shiva and Goddess Parvati in the pristine Mount Kailash. It is also significant in Buddhism. According to them, it is the home of Buddha Demchok and for Jains it was the place where Rishabadeva attained Nirvana.

Beneath the peak of Mt. Kailash is the most serene water body of Mansarovar lake. It lies 4590 meters above the sea level. It personifies purity and those who drank the fresh water would go to abode of Shiva was the religious belief that people had. For the Bon religion, Tonpa Shenrab visited Tibet for the first time and bathed in this lake. Kailash Mansarovar is a religious yatra for the pilgrims. The beauty of this divine place is immeasurable.

The routes to holy Kailash Mansarovar yatra start from a drive to Syabrubesi and through the path of Kerong and Dongba you arrive at Mansarovar. You will also see the Yama dwar known as "Gates of Lord of Death". During this trek you come across a high pass called Dolma La pass (5539m) then move to Shivasthal and from Darchen and Dongba where Brahmaputra river flows you leave Tibet and drive from Rasuwagadi to Kathmandu.

Kailash Mansarovar yatra provides the views of both Nepal and Tibet and the cultures including Hinduism, Buddhism, Bon and Jainism. There are many devotees coming to Nepal from neighbouring Countries like India, Bangladesh to embark on the holy Kailash Mansarovar yatra in Nepal.
